FARMVILLE.

Here is a tribute to Farmville's health record. A lady from one of the far southern states who had not been here for thirty years among other places visited our cemetery and remarked to a friend who was with her, "if this cemetery had been in her State and for a town the size of Farmville, there would have been twice as many graves in it," and yet our city of the dead is claiming our friends year by year, and the places that once knew many of them are now knowing them no more forever. Call the roll of those who ten years ago were looked upon as growing old, and but few answer the call. Some one asked your correspondent but recently, "who are the active men of Farmville now?" and when I began to mention the names of some of them I had put in this class, he promptly said, "why those are boys." But, the frost of winter is upon and the evening shadows are gathering. So far as I know, however, they are not complaining of the flight of time and are looking the future in the face.

"The happiest heart that ever beat,
Was in some cottage hidden;
That found the common daylights sweet,
And left to heaven the rest."

Fall goods begin to attract attention now that there is a little coolness in the air. The bonnets are "beauts" but from the size of the plumes they must touch the pocket book seriously.

There new candy shops have opened in time for the Normal school, and the nickels find the way to their tills. It is a mistake to imagine that students live on Greek sorts. They get hungry as the rest of us do, and some of our boarding house keepers say, "a little more so." There are no dyspeptics among them but all are vigorous eaters of substantial food. The candy is only play time.

The ladies of the town are constantly fearing that the City Fathers will order the cutting down of other shade trees, but in this regard they have done well of late. At one time the destruction was fast and furious.

The agent at the passenger depot of the Norfolk and Western only works eight hours out of the twenty four under the new order of things and this is great gain on their past. Let this become general and it will be great gain to the travelling public. The old freight depot ought to be lightened up. It is antiquated in appearance and out of harmony with Main street buildings.

The two-cent rate may make our railway magnates pessimistic. It ought not and for the good reason they are going to make money by the change.

Now and then we have some excellent meal in our market. I saw a quarter of lamb on sale Saturday, and I not only saw but ate some of it that would have "passed muster" in the palmiest days of the Commonwealth. Do you remember the song we use to sing before the war which ran this way, "sheep meat too good or nigger." They get much of it however.

The Harry-Sidney boys are often seen on our streets, in our homes and in our churches. Their favorite resort, however is the Normal, where they are allowed to visit on Friday evenings and go with the girls to church Sunday nights, though they are not permitted to remain for "chit chat" after returning from the church service.

The walkways from the school to our churches are now perfect and walking is a luxury, especially with one best girl by starlight.

Rev. Mr. Fugate and family are now installed in their new home and the new pastor is fully entered upon his new work in his new field. It would have been difficult for him to have found a more interesting field. Rev. Mr. Littleton also selected Farmville as the place in which to spend the evening of his life and who has gone past the four score and ten mile post, still walks as erect and as rapid as the Indian and works his own garden.

Saturday was another red letter business day in the history of our town. I sometimes wonder where the people come from, but they get here in great and cheerful numbers, and by the way the most interesting sights I ever looked on was a crowd moving of citizens or marching soldiers—ei ther sun nor star nor sea nor sky, nor mountain nor meadows is more impressive, "The heavens declare the glory of God,' but "man was made in his image."

Our richest fellow citizens are the hardest workers of us all, and I sometimes wonder why this should be so. The everlasting chase for another dollar must be a sad mistake. "The glorious privilege of being independent" is the one thing money ever did buy that is worth the price.

Some seventeen years ago the mule and cart were introduced into the life history of Farmville and have been doing good service ever since. "Simon" is the presiding genius and seems to be satisfied with the job.

Our Y. M. C. has died the usual death in Farmville. This is a town of homes and business men go to their respective homes and not to clubs or Y. M. C. A. rooms.

The Planter's Bank building is being greatly improved within and without. Mr. J. W. Hubbard who has been assistant book keeper at this bank has gone with Mr. W. G. Dunnington, the best position Farmville offers to any bright young business man.

The local syndicate that bought the town site in Charlotte on the line of the Tidewater are hopeful of good returns on their investment. The town will be known as Phoenix, and it did not rise out of ashes either. I am told that this property cost $35,000 and that $23,000 of stock has already been sold and that the fever still rages. I regret that this money was not invested in a shoe or furniture factory in Farmville, but these young "Napoleons of finance" know better what to do with their money than I do and I am not impatient enough to offer them advice. We do very much need a larger pay roll in Farmville, however before we can hope to grow into city proportions.

Mr. C. C. Fleming, one of our leading dry goods merchants and Mrs J. B. Wade were married at the home of Mr. McIlwaine Knight, in the City of New York, and will continue to live in Farmville. Mrs. McIlwaine Knight is a sister of Mr Fleming.

The ladies of the Methodist church entertained the students of the Normal school Friday and the services of that church in the new lecture room on last Friday evening in a most delightful manner. The Presbyterians led off in their entertainments and now the Baptist and Episcopalians will follow.

The rumor that Rev. Hatcher, the beloved pastor of the Methodist church here will be sent to another charge, is warmly denied. The people of the town unite with those of his own charge in the hope that he will be allowed to remain his four years in Farmville. He is just closing his second year with us.

The kindergarten at the Normal is in full running order and is one of the most attractive features of the school. It is wonderful how the little tots are controlled by the gentle manners and sweet voice of their teacher.

Judge W. A. Hacker, of Florida, a native of Buckingham, who has won and worthily wears the highest honors his adopted State had to bestow, has been a recent visitor in town.

Months with "R" in them are oyster months, but now, how about Oyster Bay months? asks the Florida Times-Union. Why they have an "R" in the m during July and August.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalence of Kidney Diseases.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney diseases are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost unrecognized by patient and physicians, who constant themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

After being requested by my friends, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Supervisor for the coming election, Nov 5th, 1907, for the Southside district of the County of Appomattox, Va., and if elected I shall do all within my power and energy to please the people of my district. This is my motto, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." Respectfully,

W. B. HARVEY.
Evergreen, Va. Sept. 26th, 1907.

S. P. Coleman Comes Out for Legislature.

At the urgent request of many friends, I hereby announce myself a candidate for the House of Delegates for the Appomattox district. I am a Democrat, but do not endorse the plans of the present organization for party management and respectfully submit my appeal to my fellow Democrats of the county and ask for their support at the election to be held on November 5th.

S. P. COLEMAN.

Announcement.

To the Voters of Appomattox County:

At the solicitation of many voters, I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of Commonwealth Attorney for Appomattox county, and respectfully solicit the support of every voter of the county, regardless of party, sect, creed or class and will say that I have no partnership nor any entangling alliances, or other relationships to hinder me from personally prosecuting every violation of law in the county, and pledge myself, if elected to the personal and faithful discharge of every duty pertaining to the said office, without fear, favor or affection, and to attend in person the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, as the law directs, and keep an eye single to an economical administration of the finances, and the good order of the county.

Very respectfully,
J. P. L. FESSMAN.

Sheppards.

Well, it's about time for a letter from Sheppards, but some how I don't like "the fall of the year" because it reminds me too much of LEAVES. Now this is no joke for it does seem that most of our folks are leaving. Joe Jones has gone to Farmville to live, and so has Joe Elcan, and George Cox has gone to Missouri, and some more folks are fixing to go away.

Say! How is this for an ideal Let's put up a monument to "Those who have left us to get better jobs somewhere else." It would take one a whole lot higher than the Confederate monument at Buckingham if we inscribed all the names on it of our "non residents" citizens. But there is some consolation in knowing that all our boys are doing well in their adopted homes and now and then they come back to take a hasty look at Old Buckingham and get back to hustle again.

Fayette Cox was here the other day, came from "Old Missouri," where he is doing well. He is a little grayer and a bit more pious than he use to be. We were all glad to see him.

It looks like we were going to have the graded school after all, for Nick Crute is sawing the lumber and Willie Moss is going to build it. So mote it be.

Judge Gordon has appointed Mr. M. C. Elcan Commissioner of Revenue, and we all unite in saying that he could not have found a man more conscientious and faithful in the performance of the duties of the office.

A few of the candidates for county offices have visited the dear people, but "politics" ain't what she use to was and mighty little interest is shown by the people generally in who shall either make or execute our laws.

Mr. W. H. Jones and wife of Columbia, S. C. are at New Store on a visit to home folks. Martin Bellinger is with them, of course.

Mrs. Irving Horn, of Baltimore, has been at Mr. Jack Hooper's for several days on a visit to her friends in Buckingham.

The Normalites get out home occasionally, Miss Louise Jones came last Friday and Miss Lucy Elcan came yesterday and brought some of her school-mates with her.

Buckingham.

The announcement that Judge Gordon had appointed Messrs Elcan and Camden to succeed themselves as Commissioners of Revenue came as a great surprise to some people, and it may be inferred that the Judge considered the matter from the standpoint that the people had elected these men, yes and reelected them and if they were the choice of the people then, why not now. However this may be, the legislature in placing the appointing power in the hands of the Circuit Court Judges, seem to have contemplated that men who would act differently in office from what had been done by the commissioners chosen by the people would be the appointees under this new law. At the coming election we have before us some first rate men as candidates. The Democratic party has chosen well and Democrats can support the nominees with pleasure. In Marshal district Mr. J. B. Hanes is the nominee for supervisor, he comes before the people with clean hands, a man of worth and intelligence. In Maysville district, G. L. Spencer is the nominee for Supervisor, a man with a clean record who will do his duty as he sees it. The other nominees are in office now, and their record is what they have to stand on or fall by. There are good men offering as Republicans and some as Independents, but I think Democrats will support the men who their party has placed in nomination.

Rev. Mr. Henderlite preached a missionary sermon in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday morning in which he explained why he was a missionary. The first reason he gave was that he was a christian; the second, that he felt he was called to engage in th work; the third was that he wanted to do this work, and then came the blessed thought that it was giving his Lord and Master pleasure to have the light brought to the souls of those benighted people he is working among in Brazil. Mr. Henderlite, with his wife and five attractive children expect to leave on the next steamer which sails for their port, which may be about the last of this month.

INTERESTING STORIES ABOUT HOME FOLKS

Our Correspondents relate the News of the County.

Idleness.

How thoughtless we spend our youthful days,
In idle dreams and careless useless ways,
How sadly unheeded that warning truth;
Remember thy Creator in the days of youth.
We stand by the troubled waters and wait,
Procrastinating 'till alas! too late.

We hear Mount Sinai's awful doctrai roar,
And trembling stand at the sepuchres door.
We cannot run away the mighty storm,
The word over your mental vision has thrown
A veil of skepticism, you cannot see
That angels have rolled it away for thee.

We must heed afresh that dear wounded side,
We must see the prints of the nails as through,
And hear that voice of suffering that cried,
"Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."
Another crown of sharper thorns we pace
On that devoted head that brought us grace.

Until a greater sorrow, our path has crossed
And we turn to the Blessed Book, at last,
We have wondered so far in the dark way
We scarcely hope for cheering ray,
At length the Savior himself draws near
And we touch the hem of his garment in fear.

Oh! could we but take, in the morning of life,
Like a child, the great truths and, make them rife
Unfurl our banners in the name of the Lord:
Attune our music to the heavenly chord,
Then would march to the notes refrain,
And ere song the Millenium we might attain.

The record up anger is now at hand
One foot on the sea and one the land,
On what will his record bear thee
When the books are opened in Eternity?
Awake to thy duty, if not yet begun
And may it be faithful servant, well done.
